

LYME REGIS SEA ANGLING CLUB PRIVACY POLICY STATEMENT

On 25th May 2018 the General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR) became legislation changing the law regarding the holding and use of personal data such as names, addresses, phone numbers and email addresses.

GDPR is designed to protect your privacy and provide reassurance that any personal data is being used responsibly and held securely.

Lyme Regis Sea Angling Club manages a database which holds your name, home address, email address and telephone number(s). This information is used only for the purpose of informing you about events, advising on matters relating to the Annual General Meeting and anything else that is relevant to the Club and its activities. This information is not processed or passed on to third parties for the purpose of sale or marketing, promotions etc. The information is held on personal computer and is password protected and subject to safeguards.

Lyme Regis Sea Angling Club is mindful of the security that is needed as far as containing images of children under 16 and will not release any images of fishing activity without first gaining the permission of the parent or legal guardian through the membership application form.

The information stored on the computer will be retained whilst that person is a member but will be deleted after the subscription has elapsed, after allowing a reasonable time for late renewals.

This personal data, which is only available to officers of the club, can be removed on request to the membership secretary. At that point the information will be deleted and the member leaving will receive a message to that effect from the membership secretary.
